

RUSSIA INVOKES DEATH PENALTY FOR TERRORISTS

71 NABBED FOR ALLEGED PLOTS UPON OFFICIALS

Think Action Linked With Slaying Of Sergei Kiroff

Moscow, Dec. 3.—(P)—Thirty-nine "White Guards" from the Leningrad region and 32 others from the Moscow area were arrested tonight and charged with preparation of terrorist acts against officials of the U. S. S. R., presumably in connection with the assassination of Sergei Kiroff, secretary of the central executive committee.

The arrests followed the central committee's decree invoking anew the death penalty for Russian terrorists and providing swift trial and prompt execution of penalties, with no appeal from death sentences.

In addition to the arrests, the chief of administration of the commissariat of home affairs at Leningrad, named Medieff, together with six of his responsible assistants was removed from office for negligence in safeguarding the state's security.

It was announced the "White Guards" will be tried by a military collegium of the Supreme Court. Medieff and his assistants also are to face trial.

Medieff was to be replaced temporarily by Vice Commissar Agratoff at Leningrad, it was announced. The names of the former's assistants who were removed and committed to trial with him were given as Fomin, Gorin, Loboff, Yanishevsky, Petroff, Palzovich and Mosevich.

MARTIN INSULT TO SEEK NEW COUNTRY

Chicago, Dec. 3.—(P)—Win or lose in his state trial for embezzlement, which opened today, Martin Insull must leave the United States.

The younger brother of Samuel Insull, founder of the United States Trust Company, which once controlled the largest power empire the world has ever known, came back to Chicago paraded as a violator of immigration laws.

The specific immigration law violation charge against the 65 year old Insull was that as an alien—he is an English subject—Martin had left the country and remained away more than six months. An alien seeking to re-enter after that period, authorities explained, must have a visa from an American consul, and such a visa could not be given to a person accused of a felony.

WISCONSIN SLAYERS GIVEN LIFE TERMS

Eau Claire, Wis., Dec. 3.—(P)—Circuit Judge James Wiskham today sentenced Mrs. Jennie Yakish and Jacob Braden to life imprisonment as punishment for their long-planned slaying of the woman's husband, Joseph Yakish.

Yakish was fatally wounded by Braden the evening of Nov. 12 when Braden waylaid the little Plummer Lake farmer near his home. The shot-gun murder was confessed by Braden after Mrs. Yakish, saying her husband had treated her brutally for years, admitted to authorities she and Braden had discussed over a long period ways to dispose of her mate.

Holdup Joke Acts As Boomerang And 2 Men Pay Fines

Chicago, Dec. 3.—(P)—Their Thanksgiving Day "robbery" of a friend, Joseph Butzer, Jr., proved a boomerang in court today for Matt Bernofer and Joseph Koff. The defendants said they drove, unarmed, into Butzer's filling station in a prankish mood and announced a "stickup."

With his back turned to them, Butzer raised his hands and held out $54. As Koff and Bernofer drove around the block, chuckling, intending to return the "look," a police squad nabbed them. Butzer admitted he knew the men and the court assessed small fines on larceny charges.

SAAR PACT MAY SMOOTH WAY IN PEACE EFFORTS

Dispute Over Hotbed Area Appears To Be Settled

By Andree Berding, Associated Press Foreign Staff.

Rome, Dec. 3.—(P)—Germany and France clasped hands across the No-Man's Land of the troublesome Saar today in an accord tending to assure this part of Europe of at least a temporary breathing spell of peace.

Count De Chamberlain, ambassador of France, and Ambassador Ulrich Von Hassell of Germany signed an agreement in the name of their governments designed to eliminate the rich Saar basin as a danger spot in European politics in advance of the Jan. 13 plebiscite.

Under the accord, arranged under the auspices of a League of Nations committee, Germany agrees to pay 900,000,000 francs ($54,000,000) and 11,000,000 tons of coal for France's mines and private credits in the Saar basin.

Furthermore, the agreement guarantees that Germany will accord equal rights to voters and non-voters among all inhabitants of the Saar, regardless of race, religion or language.

France and Germany will write to the League of Nations identical letters stating these guarantees. The league now has jurisdiction over the Saar under provisions of the Versailles treaty. The Jan. 13 plebiscite puts it up to Saar voters whether they wish to continue this mandate, go to Germany or belong to France.

The agreement means that Germany will guarantee to Jews in the Saar equal treatment with Gentiles.

Hillsboro, Ill., Dec. 3.—(P)—Fourteen central Illinois "treason code" defendants, accused as conspirators against the government, gained their first point at law today as their trial was postponed in favor of motions to quash the indictments.

The mass trial, originally set for today in circuit court here, was continued until January 7, after defense counsel filed motions to quash and demanding bills of particulars from the state. The motions will be argued Friday before Trial Judge Paul McWilliams of the Litchfield city court, assigned here by a change of venue.

The 14 defendants were arrested last summer in a climax to a series of relief protest demonstrations in Montgomery county. A few days before the arrests a crowd of men invaded a meeting of the Nokomis city council and disrupted consideration of a resolution designed to ban parading and other demonstrations.

AUSTRALIAN FLOOD CLAIMS 40 LIVES

Melbourne, Australia, Dec. 3.—(P)—After a night of terror which many spent in trees beating off snakes swimming in surrounding waters, thousands of residents of flood devastated communities near here watched swollen rivers recede today.

The unprecedented flood, gravest disaster in the state of Victoria's history, cost the lives of 40, left approximately 8,000 homeless and caused damage estimated at £1,000,000 (about $5,000,000).

Two thickly populated farming communities north and east of here were inundated by the swiftly rising waters.

Heavy damage in coastal towns was caused as a high wind lashed the sea. Seventeen lives were believed to have been lost when the coastal steamer Coramba foundered.

Twenty-Five Rescued From Wrecked Freighter

One coast guardsman sacrificed his life trying to reach the ship, but all twenty-five members of the crew of the freighter Henry W. Cort were rescued after a night on their sinking ship, which was pounded against the Muskegon, Mich., breakwater by a gale. The upper photo shows members of the crew as they reached the beach; the lower shows the freighter on the breakwater.

BOND ISSUE ON RELIEF MAY BE RULED ILLEGAL

Question Method Used In Giving Notice Of Referendum

By Milburn P. Akers, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 3.—(P)—Sale of the $20,000,000 in bonds approved Nov. 6 to fund unemployment relief expenditures was halted today when attorneys questioned the manner in which Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes caused the referendum notice to be printed.

As a result the bond sale now awaits a decision of the Supreme Court. If it holds that the election notice was not in compliance with the law, the entire bond issue may be invalidated.

To determine the legality of the call as issued by the secretary of state, Attorney General Otto Kerner today asked the Supreme Court to issue a writ of mandamus requiring State Treasurer John C. Martin to sign the debentures.

Martin, in order that the question might be determined judicially, made a technical objection to signing the bonds, raising the issue of legality over the manner in which Hughes had issued the election notice.

The law requires the secretary of state to publish the election notice "once each week for three months at least before the vote of the people shall be taken x x x in at least two daily newspapers, one of which shall be published in the city of Springfield and one in the city of Chicago."

Hughes caused the notice to be published in a Chicago newspaper as required. Then he split the business between two Springfield newspapers, having the notice run in half the time required and then in the other the remainder of the time.

POST THINKS HE REACHED HEIGHT OF 48,000 FEET

Plans to Make Another Trip Into Stratosphere In Few More Days

Bartlesville, Okla., Dec. 3.—(P)—Confident he set a new airplane altitude record of some 48,000 feet today, Wiley Post announced tonight he would defy the stratosphere's howling gales and 70-degree below zero cold again within "two or three days" in an attempt to fly 10,000 feet higher still.

Whipped about by terrific winds, Post landed at Muskogee's "harbor field" at 10:21 a. m., unwilling at first to estimate how high he had gone in his two hours and eleven minutes struggle.

He flew back to Bartlesville, some 90 miles northwest of Muskogee and after looking over his instruments and calculating the time he was aloft and climbing 1,000 feet a minute, said he believed he had reached about 48,000 feet.

The record of 47,352.2 is held by Lieut. Renato Donati of Italy.

BUSINESS FAILURES DROP

New York, Dec. 3.—(P)—Business failures during November numbered 923 against 1,091 in October and 1,237 in the same month last year, according to reports to Dun & Bradstreet. In the first 11 months there were 11,223 failures in the United States compared with 19,175 in the same period last year.

Northern States Swept By Wind, Snowstorms

Four States Are Covered With New Blanket Up To Eight Inches Deep—Two Killed, Several Hurt In Mishaps

St. Paul, Dec. 3.—(P)—A second snowstorm that came almost before the paralyzing effects of last Friday's storm had been overcome, tonight taxed the removal facilities of southern Minnesota and the twin cities, completely blocking side-roads in some areas.

Wisconsin, which also shared in the earlier storm, was blanketed today by snow driven by a wind which reached a velocity on Lake Michigan of 48 miles an hour, a 60 year December high. Nearly a dozen Lake Michigan boats were believed facing the peril of this wind.

Two deaths were attributed to the storm, which also brought snow, ranging up to six inches, to South Dakota. Eugene Hanson, 21, Windom, Minn., was killed when the car he was driving crashed into a truck disabled by poor driving conditions. His two companions were seriously injured. Dr. Robert M. Thompson, 65, Darlington, Wis., veterinarian, was killed last night near Milwaukee when he was struck by a skidding truck a moment after leaving his own car which had gone into a ditch.

Nearby Winona, Minn., which still had not cleared up Friday's 15 inch fall, had eight more today.

Minneapolis school officials gave students a day off. Street cars, busses and automobiles, both in St. Paul and Minneapolis, were stopped.

SPANISH GROUP PREPARING FOR POLITICAL COUP

Monarchists, Rightists Believe Boom To Be To Make New Bid For Power

(Copyright, 1934, By The Associated Press.)

Madrid, Dec. 3.—A combination of monarchist forces and extreme rightists is preparing an unexpected bid for power under a modified "corporative state" plan, it was reliably stated tonight in high monarchist quarters.

The purpose of the plan, which is to be announced shortly, was described as to give the Spanish republic "a type of modern corporative state based upon the old Spanish traditional system, ruled by a rightist united front."

It was denied the project was related to Fascism, although it is somewhat similar to Fascism in some of its points.

The scheme has the double objective of terminating the centuries-old Carlist-Bourbon conflict and uniting the monarchists into one group, and the creation of an ambitious "national non-partisan bloc" under the leadership of former Minister Jose Calvo Sotello, which would admit to membership monarchists, extreme right Republicans, Fascists and any others who wished to join.

Informants of the Associated Press said the plan will include provisions designed to please the Spanish workers.

ORDERS SANITY TEST GIVEN TO ACCUSED YOUTH

Phillip Kennamer Has Told His Version In Tulsa Case

Tulsa, Okla., Dec. 3.—(P)—A sanity test was projected today for Phillip Kennamer, youth charged with the murder of John P. Gorrell, while count authorities expressed the desire to question Homer F. Wilcox, Jr., son of an oil-wealth family already reported the object of a kidnapping plot.

Holly Anderson, county prosecutor, said he was "eager to talk" to Wilcox concerning reports to police that the 17-year-old oil man's son drove the motor car in which Kennamer went to a roadhouse after Gorrell was shot twice through the brain with his own pistol.

Kennamer, who calmly surrendered Saturday with the assertion he had been forced to kill Gorrell in self-defense, pleaded not guilty today to the Thanksgiving night killing. While police discounted his self-defense story, Anderson said a sanity test would be ordered for the 19-year-old son of Federal Judge Franklin E. Kennamer.

Wilcox's sister, Miss Virginia Wilcox, has been named in sworn statements as the intended victim of a proposed extortion plot attributed by the affiants to Gorrell. Miss Wilcox and her father said they knew nothing of the plan.

Prosecutor Anderson expressed belief it was unnecessary to issue an order for Wilcox, Jr.

"I am sure," he said, "that as soon as we talk to W. F. Wilcox, Sr., he will help us confer with his son. But we do want to talk to him and try to clear up some perplexing angles of the case."

Wade Thomas, operator of the roadhouse where Kennamer reportedly went after the slaying, has been questioned. Officials were light mouthed tonight about a much-discussed theory that Kennamer and Gorrell, 23-year-son of a Tulsa physician, were involved in illegal undertakings.

NEW FINANCING PLANS RECEIVED WELL, FDR HEARS

Conferees on Relief Plans Are Cheered By Reception Given By Business

By Francis M. Stephenson, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Warm Springs, Ga., Dec. 3.—(P)—An "excellent reception" of the government's latest and largest financial offering cheered conferees about the table of President Roosevelt today as a huge new public works relief program was pondered.

Mr. Roosevelt put the actual financial and the proposed works plans side by side in an important luncheon meeting with Secretary Morgenthau and Secretary Ickes. He kept the decision to himself.

There was every indication here tonight, however, that the new Congress would be asked for a sizeable sum—billions probably—to provide work jobs until private industry can take up the slack.

The treasury head and the public works administrator came here early today from Atlanta. Mr. Morgenthau immediately checked up with Washington on the market reception of today's government offering of $1,882,000,000 in the regular December quarterly financing.

He was beaming as he joined the president in the open air swimming pool, reporting the "reception is excellent."

EXPOSURES MADE OF TAX EVASION PLOT ARE PROBED

Officials Claim New Jersey Man Conspired To Sell Out The Government

Washington, Dec. 3.—(P)—Thomas N. McCarter, a New Jersey public utilities operator, was revealed today as the man who exposed an income tax evasion conspiracy labeled by officials as designed to "sell out the government."

This word was forthcoming just as it became known treasury officials will ask the District of Columbia grand jury this week to indict two federal employees and possibly six persons in all.

The alleged conspiracy came to light a week ago. At that time Secretary Morgenthau described the treasury's informant as a "high class business man" and "good citizen."

He spoke this praise less than 24 hours after McCarter announced a court fight against President Roosevelt's power program.

TRIO TAKES OFF ON FLIGHT OVER OCEAN TO HAWAII

7 Cowboy Robbers Overlook Big Sum During Bank Raid

Chicago, Dec. 3.—(P)—Seven noisy, cowboy robbers staged a "wild west" raid on a North Side bank today, escaped with $3,400 and overlooked $25,000 which was there for the taking.

With precision the robbers drove up to the Hamilton State Bank shortly after it opened, entered with shouts of "vippies" and "hi-yi-yi" and completed their work in two minutes.

Two were stationed as outside guards, four entered the bank and a seventh was left at the wheel of their car. Two of the four who entered stood guard with pistols and sawed-off shotguns in the middle of the bank lobby and forced ten employees and five patrons to lie on the floor while the other two scaled seven foot barriers to enter the cashiers' cages.

There they scooped up $3,400 and neglected to search cash drawers which held $25,000.

Police gave chase as the marauders fled but lost their quarry in traffic.

BEGIN TRACING GUN THOT USED IN HILL DEATH

Both Murder, Suicide Theories Upheld During Probe

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 3.—(P)—Investigators today uncovered no new evidence to support the possibility of murder in the mysterious death of H. B. Hill, former head of the Abraham Lincoln Life Insurance Company and key witness in the Chicago bank swindle case.

The belief that Hill shot himself in his bullet-riddled sedan was reiterated by State's Attorney Alfred H. Greening.

Chicago authorities had hoped to use Hill as the chief witness against Joseph Balala, Dave (Long Count) Barry and other charged with attempting to defraud a bank and get possession of the local insurance company.

But Greening and others, awaiting a ballistics test, still leaned toward the suicide theory.

They learned today that a large sedan resembling that in which the body was found had been seen Saturday evening on an isolated road northwest of Springfield.

The first contribution of science in attempts to solve the mystery death was obtained tonight when Charles Wilson, research engineer at Northwestern University, in Chicago, announced that he had established the serial numbers on the weapon.

The numbers were rushed here so Sangamon county authorities may trace the weapon. The numbers were all but obliterated and minute microscopic examination was necessary to determine what they were.

Wilson, Keeler and others continue work to determine whether the bullets which punctured Hill's car had been fired from the weapon.

HENRY FLETCHER SAYS HE DOESN'T PLAN TO RESIGN

Says Republican Party Can Not Stand Such Move; Hits at Critics

Washington, Dec. 3.—(P)—Henry P. Fletcher hit back at his critics tonight with an assertion that he had "no intention" of resigning as chairman of the Republican National Committee because to do so at this time would plunge the party organization into confusion.

At the same time, Fletcher served notice on Senator Borah of Idaho and others who demanded a "complete reorganization" of the party that they could achieve their goal by presenting a concrete legislative program in Congress and by obtaining signatures of 16 national committeemen from as many states for a meeting of the national committee.

Borah has suggested a revolt of young and liberal Republicans to bring about a reorganization if those in control are unwilling to call the national committee for this purpose.

HOLD 5 HI-JACKERS

Chicago, Dec. 3.—(P)—Five men accused of roles in a hijacking ring which last week stole a truck bound for Des Moines, Ia., and carrying $6,000 worth of butter were held to the federal grand jury today under aggregate bonds of $19,000.

CHARGES DISMISSED

Prepeot, Ill., Dec. 3.—(P)—Thirteen defendants, charged with violation of the internal revenue laws, were freed in federal court here today when indictments against the group were dismissed by the government.

ULM, AIDES ARE TRYING TO MAP NEW AIR ROUTE

Heavily - Laden Plane Begins Long Hop From Oakland

Oakland, Calif., Dec. 3.—(P)—Flight Lieutenant Charles T. P. Ulm and his two flying companions took off at 3:41 p. m. (Pacific Standard Time) today on their trans-Pacific flight to Honolulu and Australia.

The low-wing underslung silver and orange plane lifted slowly and quickly gained altitude toward the Golden Gate.

A scattered crowd of perhaps 300 persons, most of them with cameras, were on hand for the takeoff. Ulm expected to arrive in Honolulu tomorrow morning.

The plane "Star of Australia" made one wide sweeping circle over the field before heading toward the setting sun and disappeared into a bank of white fog.

Ulm, 38, and his crew, Co-pilot George Littlejohn, 29, and Navigator J. L. Skilling, 33, are charting the course of a new commercial air venture which Ulm expected to inaugurate regular operations from Australia to Hawaii in two years.

One of the longest all-water routes in the world lay ahead of Ulm. Once their silver and orange monoplane left the Farallone Islands, guardians of the Golden Gate, behind, not a speck of land will they see until Koko Head juts up on the horizon, 2,408 miles distant.

It will be an over-water hop with which Ulm is entirely familiar, however, and one flown several times by others since Lieutenants Lester J. Maitland and Albert Hegenberger blazed the way in June, 1927.

The heavily-laden plane trundled nearly the entire length of the airport runway—about 5,000 feet—before it took to the air.

There were 695 gallons of gasoline aboard. Littlejohn was at the controls. Six years ago the Australian was co-pilot for Sir Charles Kingsford Smith on the first trans-Pacific flight in history, a 7,400 mile pioneering dash from Oakland to Brisbane, Australia, by way of Hawaii and the Fiji Islands.

Much the same route will be followed on the present flight, with some exceptions. The hop of 3,197 miles from Honolulu to Suva, Fiji, will be broken by a stop at Funafuti Island, 1,000 miles out from Honolulu and a bit to the east of the direct line course.

Again, instead of flying from Suva to Brisbane, Lieutenant Ulm plans to fly directly south to Auckland and from there to Sydney, his ultimate goal.

The distances from Suva to Auckland and to Sydney are each slightly more than 13,000 miles, and easily negotiable by comparison with the first two legs.

Ulm and his two companions are all married and live in Sydney, N. S. W. Ulm's ship, an English Airspeed Envoy has a top speed of 150 miles and a cruising speed of 130 miles. It is powered with two 240-horsepower Linx motors which consume about 29 gallons of fuel hourly.

CUSTOM RECEIPTS AT NEW PEAK IS REPORT

Chicago, Dec. 3.—(P)—A new high in customs receipts for November since prior to the start of the depression was announced today by Collector of Customs Anthony Czarniecki. A total of $1,814,425.62 was collected in duties on imported goods during the month, his report showed.

Czarniecki attributed the increase, which surpassed the figure for November, 1928, to generally improved business conditions, the stimulus given Chicago by the World's Fair and to the importation of a large quantity of holiday liquor.

Univ. May Offer Marriage Course For Men Students

Seattle, Dec. 3.—(P)—A course in marriage to instruct men students how to avoid unhappy unions is being considered by the University of Washington. Dr. Norman S. Hayner, associate professor of sociology, disclosed today.

Dr. Hayner said two-thirds of the marriages of the university's graduates are successful and the suggested course—in problems of courtship, engagement, the wedding, adjustments in personalities, child training, divorce and the problems of the unmarried—should tend to make more of them successful.

The course, open only to senior men, would comprise "frank discussion of marriage problems." He said it would be identical with one offered at the University of North Carolina. Similar courses he said, are offered at the universities of Wisconsin and Michigan.

Crying For Fees

Two Chicago criminal lawyers, members of the Illinois bar association, have spoken out in condemnation of the killing of criminals. "Bring 'em back alive" appears to be the motto these men want the government to adopt in its pursuit of desperadoes. They think it would be more effective to capture and convict such men as George Nelson and John Dillinger.

To be sure, it would be more profitable for criminal lawyers, who would have opportunity to enter the pay of the underworld and exercise their skill in cooking up technicalities to get their clients free. It would be more expensive for the taxpayers, for court costs are higher than coroner's fees. It would add to the burden of the public in caring for prisoners whose ambition would be to shoot their way out and resume their raving of society.

The plea of these lawyers seems to be nothing more than a cry for fees. Crime reached the disgraceful proportions it now has in this country because of the millions of dollars the underworld could use to hire lawyers, corrupt juries and otherwise pervert justice. That sort of thing must stop and if the guns of federal officers will stop it, let them blaze on.

The lawyers claim the Department of Justice is usurping authority and should return the job of catching criminals to the local police. That would be merely another way of returning the criminals to the hands of the lawyers. Everyone knows what a miserable failure state and local authorities made of attempts to check the crime wave. Before the government took a hand, there were gang wars in Chicago and elsewhere. It was a county sheriff that permitted Dillinger to escape in Indiana. It was from state prisons that some of the worst desperadoes made their escape.

Uncle Sam has undertaken the job of exterminating the criminal element. His motto is "Shoot them first, take them later." He has learned that attempts to bring them back alive result in the loss of valuable officers. Despite the complaints of the lawyers, the hunting and killing of criminals will continue. Public opinion approves heartily, and the government knows it. There is to be no more soft treatment for bad men.

Our New Tanks

The War Department is now testing out a new tank, weighing eight tons and having a maximum speed of 90 miles an hour. It will cruise at a speed of 50 miles an hour and maintain steadily a speed of 30 miles. It is of course equipped with the latest death-dealing weapons. It is designed to travel in front of infantry on an advance.

The publication of all these details enables foreign countries to know at once all the facts about this new war weapon. Its appearance in a battle line will surprise no one, and enemy airplanes will be ready to drop bombs on it. Enemy experts will have perfected shells that will pierce its armor and silence its guns, also faster and more powerful tanks.

It is unfortunate that the government must be constantly laying its military cards on the table. Secrecy seems not to have become a rule with the War Department. The development of new tanks that are really efficient is of course gratifying; but the revelation of details had best not been made. In the military game, as in any other, it is neither wise or prudent for any participant to tell what he has up his sleeve.

Worry on the Run

Worry is the curse of most people's lives and does more damage to mind and body than almost anything else. The average human being consumes much of his brain energy in worry, wasting his nervous and mental strength and taxing all his reserve force, so that he often shortens his life.

Much of the burden of human worry has been brought on by the constant groading to achieve economic success. During the boom years we were told that accumulations must be made and that if they were not, those who failed to make them must be "born short." We worried ourselves sick, only to find that what wealth we did accumulate vanished like snow under a summer sun into the maw of the depression.

All the worry was useless. Now men are worrying over the future, whether they will be able to hold jobs, whether home and family can be maintained. Perhaps such worry is natural, but it is also useless. The disaster has not occurred that will cause the loss of a job or the termination of ability to provide for home and family, and there is absolutely nothing that can be done about it until it happens.

It has been estimated that only about ten percent of the average person's worries are real. Many worry over the mistakes of the past. Needless to say, these mistakes stick in the memory as warning signs. They have made and worry will not correct them. It is more important that the maker so conduct himself as not to repeat them.

Worry over those who have ability to take care of themselves is useless. Grown children and friends should be given credit for some common sense. Thus if a man will analyze his worries and strike off those that are unnecessary he will soon have so many worries on the run that he will be able to handle the real ones with much less worry.

Plan Illinois Forests

A giant national forest in Southern Illinois is now possible, if announcements made by Congressman Parsons from Washington are to be believed. The government has had under way for sometime the purchase of 300,000 acres of land for the Shawnee and Illini forests of which some 102,000 acres have been bought. Now it is proposed to unite these two blocks into a single forest that will contain 1,250,000 acres and will extend over 13 counties.

If the union can be effected the government would have about $6,000,000 to spend on the project. The plan would create a really vast forest domain in the southern part of the state, almost 2,000 square miles of territory devoted to park and forest purposes. Much of this land would have to be timbered but in future years the forest resources it would provide would be enormous. At the same time, park facilities would be greatly increased.

The land which would be included in this tract is marginal as far as agricultural use is concerned. The people now living on it would be moved to more fertile farms in the central part of the state, where they could make a better living. It is hoped the government can carry out the entire plan which would give this state one of the largest national forests in the country.

Taxes—Then More Taxes

The purchaser of a loaf of bread, according to the National Investment Transcript, pays 17 kind of taxes when he lays his hand on the counter.

If he walks home on leaving the store, he is wearing out shoes which are taxed 23 times.

If he rides in an automobile, he is paying 42 different kinds of taxes.

If he takes a subway or an electric car, the total number of visible taxes which are part of the cost of his fare runs to about 58.

All of these taxes, obviously, are indirect—and very few of us know that we pay them. As the Transcript says, "Tax ignorance is the crowning element in mass ignorance today." Most of us pay few or no taxes directly—and we think because of that we are contributing nothing to the cost of government.

There is not a thing in the world that isn't taxed. The house we live in represents a legion of taxes—running all the way from taxes on standing timber to taxes paid by the store which sold the finishing paint and the manufacturers which produced it. Food, clothing, transportation, entertainment, periodicals, books—the tax bill is a substantial item in their cost to the consumer.

It is obvious that these indirect taxes—which provide the bulk of governmental revenue—fall more heavily on persons of moderate means than on those with higher incomes. A loaf of bread will last a millionaire as long as it will a laborer—and the tax is the same on the loaf each buys. Tax reduction would be the greatest boon that would at once be reflected in more jobs, more purchasing power, more spending for the necessities and luxuries which keep the industrial machine turning.

We will have tax reduction when we spend less tax money—and not until then. Only massed public opinion, backed up by knowledge of the facts, can bring it about. The cost of government can and must be reduced—all the way from Washington down to the smallest hamlet in the land.

The New Deal in Washington

War to the Knife Rages in New NRA Board . . . Head Of Chairman Clay Williams Is Near Block . . . Favoritism to Industry Arouses Wrath of His Colleagues.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington—Explosions in NRA suddenly have begun to make the Jakes-Moffett dispute and other recent clashes in administration ranks look like so many Sunday school picnics.

They can't be muffled much longer. A majority of the National Industrial Recovery Board is in revolt against Clay Williams, the chairman. And it's a fair bet that the doves of peace which flew out of the board room window like the well-known "bat out of hell," won't come back within cooling distance of the Blue Eagle until Mr. Williams has returned to the tobacco business.

Meanwhile, the poor bird moans the loss of its tail feathers and whispers the first inside story of events leading up to the calamity.

It reveals, for instance, the rather startling fact that Chairman Williams no longer presides over meetings of the board. An NRB majority decided it could work better if Secretary Leon Marshall were given that duty. Marshall now presides. Mr. Williams had no choice in the matter.

But that still left Mr. Williams the board's only avenue of contact with the president and with Donald Richberg and his Industrial Emergency Committee.

Williams on Spot

Charges that he has misrepresented positions taken by the board in his visits to those high places figure importantly in the present state of affairs, which seems to find Mr. Williams on the spot. And the "spot" is very close to the White House doorstep.

The battle is important because it revolves on such vital issues as promulgation of NRA's first imposed code. NRA has never imposed a code on an industry which wouldn't present a satisfactory code of its own. A majority of the board now favors such action. Mr. Williams does not.

Roosevelt will decide. The telegraph, telephone or tobacco industry probably will be chosen—if any.

Mr. Williams, with the support of Member A. D. Whiteside and sometimes aided by Marshall, has suavely protected the demands of industrial groups which other members insist are too greedy.

Members Walton Hamilton, Blackwell Smith and Leon Henderson have declared themselves primarily for the public interest and Sidney Hillman, representing labor, has usually worked closely with Hamilton.

Staves Off Vote

Crucial issues have been kept from a vote by Williams' insinuations that NRB was not a policy-making body and that he would have to take those issues to Richberg.

Many weeks ago, at a press conference, Williams said he assumed Smith and Henderson—appointed by Roosevelt as ex-officio members—would vote with the other five and that he personally favored that.

Then he learned more about Smith and Henderson, who respectively head the research-planning and legal divisions. When a board meeting finally gave them a vote by official action, Williams said he would have to take the question to the White House.

Nothing has been heard from the White House and Smith and Henderson don't vote.

Peeling against Williams began to solidify when he tried to have the Roosevelt-ordered investigation of labor conditions in the automobile industry made by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

Liberals Take Helm

Certain forces invisible to Williams, but casting shadows which seemed to include that of a woman cabinet member, caused Roosevelt to assign the investigation to two liberals, Henderson and Dr. Isador Lubin of Secretary Perkins' staff.

Williams' subsequent effort to suppress portions of Roosevelt's firm letter on the subject also failed.

When a deputy administrator, without NRB authorization, extended the price-fixing provisions of the retail cigarette code another 90 days, it was Williams—who had indicated to correspondents that he was having nothing to do with such cases because of his business connections—who approved the action, while Hamilton and Hillman raised the roof.

Temper Get Short

Lately, NRB meetings have reached the temper-tossing and name-calling stage. Terms used would have been shorter and uglier in any less courteous group.

The very few insiders who know the facts usually agree that Williams, who originally took the chairmanship for 60 days, but hasn't said anything about quitting even though that time is up, will be leaving soon.

OakLawnPurchases New X-Ray as Step to Greater Service

The Board of Trustees of the Morgan County Tuberculosis Sanatorium announce the purchase of new x-ray equipment for Oaklawn. This is one of the major improvements that the present Board has had in mind ever since its organization.

The equipment has been ordered from the Standard X-Ray Company of Chicago and consists of transformer, tube and tube stand, timer, film changer, view box, and necessary accessory and dark room equipment. It will enable the Sanatorium to make x-ray films on patients in the building and others referred for this work.

The addition of this equipment will serve to elevate the standards of clinical service furnished citizens of Morgan county and bring it more nearly approaching the standards required of modern institutions. The purchase of the equipment has been made possible through the generosity of many organizations and friends in addition to funds set aside from money received through the Tuberculosis Sanatorium tax. More complete announcement and acknowledgment together with the plans for adequate utilization of this new equipment will be made later.

This addition to the facilities of the Sanatorium is another of the major changes that have been made since the present Board was organized. The previous installations of a major character have been the lessening of the fire hazard by construction changes within the building and the erection of fire escapes, the construction of a garage, a new roof upon the building, a new hot water heating system, a new electric dishwasher, a new boiler for the heating, and recently with the assistance of workers furnished by the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission repairs and painting of the building and work on the grounds.

All of these items have been taken care of out of the tax income in addition to usual minor repairs and current operating expenses.

Currents in the News

Senator William E. Borah has proposed a reorganization of the Republican party for the campaign of 1936. He has issued a note of warning against drifting along until the time of the next national convention without outlining a definite program along liberal and progressive lines. The effect of the pronouncement of the Idaho senator will be watched with interest. The Lion of Idaho is always dynamic.

Evidence of the power and influence of the Farm Bureau organization is reflected when it is noted that over one thousand reservations were made for the annual dinner of the organization held yesterday. The time has passed when the farmer is dependent upon some group outside of his own circle to protect his interest or map his course of action. Agriculture is not only awake to its own interests but it has developed leaders capable and efficient to fight its battles.

Hope springs eternal in the human breast. An employee of the state house has lost his job after spending 41 years in the service of the state. Twice since 1889 he has taken a forced leave of absence. Not discouraged he plans to return to his old job in 1937. He has verified the adage regarding politicians, few die, none resign.

Marking the graves of Thomas and Sarah Lush Lincoln, father and stepmother of Abraham Lincoln, with an ornamental fence at the Thomas Lincoln Memorial cemetery near Mattoon Sunday, featured an enterprise sponsored by the Kiwanis club. Favorable comment has been made of this service club activity along historical lines.

Funeral services for Joseph Oliveron, who for 40 years was an employee of the signal department of the Chicago & Alton railroad, were held Monday morning at 9 o'clock at the Church of Our Saviour. Rev. Dean F. F. Fornaz officiated, and interment was made in Calvary cemetery.

The flowers were cared for by Misses Margaret Clancy, Bird Harmon, Lizzie Coffey, Loretta Ludwig and Margaret Gebert.

Casket bearers were Leo Clancy, R. E. Henry, James Magner, Joseph Hoep, Joseph Ludwig, Joseph McDonald, Fred Dorwart and John Dorwart.

Mrs. Dean Cora of White Hall was among the Monday visitors in the city.

Santa Monica, Calif.—With football about ending, we have no major sport going till January 3, when congress holds its opening game. Be a lot of interest in congress this season for they are giving away more free tickets than ever before. Coach Roosevelt has been south for three weeks training with some of his star players. His problem is to make his team realize they haven't got it too easy. Then to keep from getting dissension on the team. They all feel they are "All American" and each one will want to pack the ball every time. Coaching prima donnas is no cinch.

Bids for School for Deaf Dormitory to Be Opened Dec. 18th

Bids for construction of two dormitories and a classroom at the Illinois School for the Deaf here will be received by the state architect's office Dec. 18.

PWA officials in Washington have notified Robert Kingery, director of the state department of public works and buildings, that approval had been given a request for a loan to assist in financing the work and that the date for taking bids had been approved also.

The federal government is furnishing $55,000 of the $310,000 expected to be needed in constructing the new building which will relieve overcrowded conditions at the institution. A request for an additional grant of $39,000 has been made. Many of the children now in the old dormitories which for some time have been considered unsafe for occupancy will be moved into the new structure. About 75 will be housed in each. The classroom between was added after preliminary plans for the dormitories had been drawn.

Heating units and washrooms in the dormitories will be used to care for children in the classroom, thus affording a considerable saving in plumbing. A. L. Bowen, director of public welfare, said.

As soon as bids are received and approved the state architect's office will push construction of the building in order that the condemned buildings now in use may be abandoned as quickly as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Sheppard and daughter, Frances, and Miss Louise Taylor spent the week end visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Odenwalder of St. Louis, Mo.

LESSON-SERMON IS HEARD IN CHURCHES

Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism De-nounced," was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 2.

The Golden Text was, "Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is not seen God" (III John 1:11).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The foolishness of man perverteth his way; and his heart fretteth against the Lord. A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he that speaketh lies shall not escape. Hear counsel, and receive instruction, that thou mayest be wise in thy latter end. There are many devices in a man's heart; nevertheless the counsel of the Lord, that shall stand" (Prov. 19:3, 5, 20, 21).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Cor-poreal sense deceptions and lies; it breaks all the commands of the Mosaic Decalogue to meet its own demands. . . . The corporeal senses are the only source of evil or error" (p. 489).

Formal announcement of the engagement of Miss Roberta Smith and Mr. Beaumont Potter was made Saturday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Homer Potter entertained at their home on Mount Road, in honor of their sons, Beaumont and James and their house guests, Miss Roberta Smith and Miss Natalie Burton, of Chicago.

The news was of much interest since Mr. Potter has many friends in Jacksonville, where he is socially prominent. Although no definite date has been set for the wedding it is planned for the near future.

The occasion was one of the most delightful of the fall season and dancing and cards were enjoyed. Through-out the home roses and chrysanthemums were used in profusion. At a late hour the guests were invited to the dining room where a buffet supper was served. Announcement of the engagement was made when cream mints, bearing the initials of the young couple were passed.

J.H.S. CAGERS OPEN SEASON WITH FRANKLIN HERE

Ex-Hero of Cadet Team is Still Obeying Orders But Work is Vastly Different

By Edward J. Neil
Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, Dec. 3.—Remember Jim, calm 'Hank' Broshous, the drop kicking youngster from Atchinson, Kas., who used to come trotting into the Army line every time the Cadets scored a touchdown, to boot the extra point, and then retire?

For three years, ending with his graduation in June of 1933, he annoyed the Army's enemies. He had many great days. He had one that nearly broke his heart, the day Army fought Notre Dame in a sea of mud in Chicago in 1930 when the Cadets blocked a kick in the final minutes for a touchdown and needed one of his perfect drop kicks to tie the score 7 to 7. Hank missed and the Irish won 7 to 6.

It must have been the swamp of Franklin field Saturday when Navy beat Army 3 to 0, that brought that day in Chicago, and Broshous, back to the mind of Major Phil Fleming, the splendid soldier who was Army's director of athletics then. Fleming is manning a public works administration desk in Washington now.

"You write about these Cadets when they're football heroes, and then forget them when their real careers—their army life—starts," chided Fleming. "Remember 'Hank' Broshous?"

"A year ago today, I was flying an open plane from somewhere in Iowa up to Glasgow, Montana, where the P.W.A. was damming the Missouri river. The man in charge of the place was Lt. Charles R. Broshous, some three months out of West Point.

"They called him down to Washington after he'd finished his graduation leave and outlined this job for him. He had no experience, nothing but technical knowledge, and he was in full charge.

"The object of the P.W.A., they told him, is to make jobs, as many as possible. Go out there and clear a dam site. Put people to work. Keep them working. Remember, put people to work."

"Hank saluted, and there I was flying out to see what he had done. There was no radio in the plane. As I landed, and Hank came running across the field the first thing I asked, of course, was 'for God's sake, what's the score?'

"What score?" said Hank. He didn't even know Army and Navy were playing!

"He showed me the job. He had come into that town alone and the first thing he did was rent the entire second floor of the First National building, the only brick structure in Glasgow. The first week he hired 400 men. In two weeks he had 600 working. The dam site was laid out perfectly. He had built a restaurant to feed the men. He had a school for the trees he cut down had been cut out, all the wood to store lengths to keep his little army busy. Then he had it all split. When I got there it was kindling.

"Lord, Major, I'm glad to see you," he said. Another week and this stuff would have been down so fine I'd have had to start a match factory."

Then he got one of the laborers to find out for me that Army had beaten Navy 12 to 7.

Layden Sings The Blues as Trojan Game Nears; Players Start Trip Very Confident

By Paul Mickelson
Associated Press Sports Writer
South Bend, Ind., Dec. 3.—(P)—Coach Elmer Layden sang the blues, but the Hallelujah chorus of his confident players drowned his wails to a mere whisper as Notre Dame's squad enroute today for the annual intersectional football duel with the Trojans of Southern California.

"We'll be lucky to even stay in the ball game," groaned the mournful commander of the fighting Irish as he looked over his squad of 38 players, four of whom were ailing with injuries or colds. But his warriors, to a man, beamed with confidence and admitted they were cocksure of adding another spavin to the Trojan horse that hasn't been galloping very fast over the far western gridirons this season.

Layden, a trifle worried over the comeback signs of the Trojans since Coach Howard Jones began inserting more sophomores and juniors into his lineup, will try the late Knute Rockne's famous scheme of having the team hold a two day workout—Tucson, Ariz. Wednesday and Thursday, arriving in Los Angeles Friday night. Rockne did that in 1930, reorganizing his offensive almost completely and routing the astonished Trojans in the final game he coached for Notre Dame.

Given their first week end layoff Saturday since their so-so campaign opened October 7 with a one-point defeat by Texas, the Irish utilized the break with feverish workouts for the Trojan invasion, polishing up an offense which has picked up goals of

Play Double Header at D. P. Gym Tonight; Walker Selects Three Veterans For Starters

Games Tonight
Franklin at J.H.S. (2 games).
Kane, Eldred at Carrollton.
Beardstown at Mt. Sterling.
Versailles at Bluffs.
Ashland at Champaign.
Hardin at Rockbridge.

With three veterans in the starting line-up, and another ready to go in to the game on first call, the Jacksonville high school Crimson will open their basketball season tonight on the David Prince court with a double header against Franklin. The first game will be called at 7 o'clock between the second teams of the two schools, and the second game is scheduled to begin at eight o'clock.

Two other schools in this neighborhood will pry the lid off the basketball season tonight, Carrollton opening with Kane and Eldred in a double header at Carrollton, and Beardstown opening at Mt. Sterling. Beardstown is taking on a West Central conference foe in the opening game, and is running up against a good team, according to "Doc" Ranes, former Greenfield coach, who is now coaching at Mt. Sterling. Coach O. L. Krughoff hopes to get a line on all of his timber in the opening double header, and wouldn't be greatly surprised if either Kane or Eldred turns in a victory. The Carrollton games also will be called at 7 and 8 o'clock.

Pick Starting Line-up
Coach Frank Walker, selected a starting line-up last night of Stanley Davis and J. Mann at guards, and George Hamilton, center, all veterans, and Fred May and Bob Hamm, forwards. Ferguson, Gilpin and Wicks will be the reserves for this squad.

The second string starting line-up probably will be Elmer Lukeman and

FOOTBALL SEASON BRINGS MEMORIES

Navy's Upset of Army and Many Sensational Epitaphs to Bring Back Season of 1934 in Years to Come.

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
New York—(P)—Except for sporadic firing in the south and west leading up the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena on New Year's Day, the football season is over but the thrills it produced will linger on for many weeks.

Navy's conquest of Army, 3-0, in the mud and rain at Philadelphia on Saturday—the Tars' first victory over West Point since 1921—furnished a dramatic and fitting climax to a campaign that saw sectional titlholders in 1933 swept from their thrones almost without exception.

The sensational upheavals of the past season saw Alabama's Crimson tide, Rose Bowl nominees, and Minnesota's Gophers alone among major schools wind up their regular schedules undefeated and untied. It witnessed, too, the collapse of such former powers as Southern California, Michigan, Nebraska and Utah.

Alabama, Stanford and the Colorado Aggies alone were able to negotiate the championship heights for the second year in succession. Alabama's 34-0 trouncing of Vanderbilt Thanksgiving Day enabled the tide to share the southeastern conference crown with Tulane's green wave which eliminated Huey Long's Louisiana State Tigers, 13-12, on Saturday. LSU had been co-champion with Alabama a year ago.

Stanford's Indians, who will represent the far west against Alabama in the Rose Bowl game, annexed clear claim to the Pacific Coast title this year where they had been forced to share it with Southern California and Oregon last year. The Colorado Aggies finished in a triple tie for the Rocky Mountain championship for the second year in succession but their co-titlists, this time are Colorado University and Colorado Teachers.

Last year the co-holders were Utah and Denver.

Otherwise, the dethroning of 1933 champions was complete. Minnesota, generally rated the most powerful eleven in the land, swept to the Big Ten crown. Michigan's Wolverines held a year ago, Kansas State replaced Nebraska as Big Six king by walloping the Cornhuskers, 19-7, on Thanksgiving Day.

In the southwest, Rice buried Baylor 22-0, Saturday to win the conference championship to which Arkansas' Razorbacks were entitled in 1933, although they didn't get it officially because an ineligible player was in the Arkansas lineup in several games. Washington and Lee's generals outpointed South Carolina, 14-7, last Thursday ascended the southern conference throne, occupied jointly by Duke and South Carolina last season.

In the east, Jack Sutherland's Pittsburgh Panthers, beaten only by Minnesota and the only opponent to give the Gophers a real battle, generally were regarded as the outstanding team in the section. They defeated all eastern rivals handsly and gave Navy's fine eleven, otherwise undefeated, a 31-6 trouncing. Last year Princeton, undefeated and untied, finished with the best record among major eastern schools.

The principal disappointments of the season were Michigan and Southern California. Undefeated Big Ten champions in 1933, the Wolverines won only one game in eight—a 9-2 triumph over Georgia Tech's Engineers, themselves walloped nine times in ten games.

Trimmed by Washington, 14-7, on Saturday, Southern California wound up its Pacific Coast conference schedule with one victory, one tie and four defeats, the worst record any Trojan team has made since Howard Jones

Munger Makes First Team as Several Blueboys Get Names On Associated Press Eleven

Chicago, (P)—Augustana's undefeated eleven, and James Millikin, undefeated but tied, gained two places each on the Associated Press Illinois College conference, all-star football team, selected by a vote of coaches.

Bob Marack, the highest scorer of the league, gave the Vikings a place in the backfield, and Smiley, a fine and accounted for the other place. Rollins, a powerful guard, and Heinlein, fullback, are Millikin's representatives on the first team.

The most popular pick, however, was Tony Blazine of Wesleyan, who maneuvered his 200-plus pounds through three seasons of sparkling play at tackle. He won every first team vote except one, and in addition, was accorded honorable mention for the Associated Press All-America team.

The other end is Skoglund of Northern Teachers, while Marawski of Southern Teachers nosed out Henry Wesleyan's other tackle, to become Blazine's running mate on the mythical eleven. Paired with Rollins at guard was Munger of Illinois College. The center berth went to Stuckwisch of Western Teachers by a narrow margin over Dexter of St. Viator, and Howard of North Central, and E. Harms of Bradley well up in the running.

Lee Handley, Bradley's quarterback, was named as signal-caller and Wilson of McKendree's Bearcats was paired by the coaches with Marack at halfback.

SAYS POST-SEASON GAMES ARE UNFAIR

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 3.—(P)—Football fans may fear with enthusiasm for colorful post-season football games, but in the opinion of the Big Ten's commission of athletics, it's a serious injustice to the players involved.

Major John L. Griffith of Chicago, sometimes described as the "Judge" of Western Conference sports, explained his views as he arrived here today to address a football meeting at the University of Cincinnati.

"From the standpoint of conserving the best interests of the students who play football, I would not change the rule that bars Big Ten teams from playing post-season games either for charity or the Rose Bowl," Major Griffith said.

"As a fan, I would, of course, enjoy seeing our champion Minnesota team play in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day. That would be great for the spectators and sportsmen, but it wouldn't be so good for the student players.

"The most important thing in universities is education. Important as football may be to the player-student, yet that is not the prime objective of their going through the university. The main purpose is to get an education, and we must look upon football activities in this larger and broader sense.

"If we permitted one team to go to the west after the close of the regular season, other teams would be invited to play in the south and the east. Soon we would have 300 students plying an extra month of their school year to football.

"We have found that it is best to agree in the Big Ten of limiting the football season within definite dates, so we agreed to open the training season not earlier than September 15 and close the season on the Saturday before Thanksgiving.

"I took a vote among Big Ten players, and found 55 per cent favored a season of eight games or less. So we have a season of eight conference games. At its close the players are pretty well tired out. It would be an injustice to them from an educational standpoint to prolong the season another month or more.

ASHLAND BECOMES PURPLE PANTHERS

Ashland, Dec. 3.—Ashland High school athletic teams from now on will be the "Purple Panthers," the student body has decided. Principal F. R. Prusha has announced. The members of the student body picked the name out of a list supplied them, and apparently they selected a name to go with the successful basketball teams they have been putting out here for the past several years.

Several names were suggested. Among them were the "Shooting Stars," "Thunderbolts," "Sunbirds," "Purple Reapers," "Antelopes," "Winged A's," and "Metonians."

The name of "Fourpointers" might have been chosen in view of the margin in Ashland's four games this year. They have defeated Franklin 14-10, New Berlin 18-13, and 27-17, and Manito 25-21.

Mrs. Harold Dill of Winchester spent Monday in the local community visiting with friends.

PREACHES AT EBENEZER

Dr. George Scribner preached at Ebenezer Sunday morning on "The Glowing Heart of Methodism" to an attentive congregation. The Rev. G. R. Underwood is the efficient pastor.

Grace Church Doings

Grace church has long been recognized as a Missionary minded church. For many years it has held the honor of being designated in the Illinois Conference as a star church in its giving on proportion to its membership. The Sunday school has always done its share of missionary giving. During the Sunday school hour figures were presented showing that the school during the period from 1920 to 1930 the average yearly offering was $600. Owing to conditions today the offerings have not been as large the last few years, but the interest is still manifest.

Sunday school attendance was 379 and the missionary offering was $13.14. At the morning hour of worship Dr. Havighurst's theme was "The Kind of a Church a Minister Desires."

In the evening service the Book set-mon was presented by Prof. Ralph Linville of the faculty of Illinois college. He reviewed the recent book by Dr. R. O. P. Taylor entitled "Does Science Leave Room for God?"

The devotional services of the high school and young people's leagues were held at 6:30 p. m.

JURY FREES JOE HALL OF MURDER CHARGE MONDAY

Louis to testify as to Hall's reputation as to being a peaceful and law abiding citizen.

Janitor Testifies
Black, who serves as janitor at the

Ayers National Bank building, testified that he had gone home from work about 10 o'clock in the morning, and that he thought the fight took place between 11 and 12 o'clock. He also testified that the fight lasted about 15 minutes, and that the man Hall was alleged to have struck staggered around for about five minutes. Black said he saw Hall walking down the railroad track, and that Hall made some remark to him and Mrs. Doolin, who were standing near the Fernandes Coal company office. The remark was not admitted into the evidence.

Black's testimony also substantiated Hall's testimony to the effect that the smaller man leaped on Hall's back. Black also said that he saw the smaller man put an arm around the taller man's neck. Black denied that he had been questioned about the case by Chief of Police Frank Baker, and the police chief later was put on the stand to testify that he had questioned Black, but that Black had declared he knew nothing of the occurrences.

Mrs. Doolin said she was sitting in a swing on her front porch and saw Hall and two other men walking down the track. She said she saw a shorter man get on of the box car and come over to where Hall was standing. The smaller man struck first, she said, and then she left the porch, going to the Fernandes Coal office. When she reached the coal office the fight was all over, she said, and Hall walked past her apparently not hurrying.

C. J. Wright, ex-deputy sheriff, was put on the stand to testify that Lappin had come into the county of "mooch" money about two hours before the fight took place. At that time, the former deputy said, Lappin appeared to be dissipated, acted insolently, and had a bruise on his face as if he had fallen to the ground skimming his cheek.

T. B. Harrison, chief clerk of the U. S. Marine hospital in St. Louis, who said he had known Hall for 12 years, Mrs. Edna Norris, who operates a St. Louis ice and coal company, for whom Hall at one time worked, Mrs. Miriam Schoenberger, a friend of the family, and Mrs. Rose Hall, mother of the confessed slayer, all took the stand to vouch for Hall's peacefulness and willingness to abide by the law. State's Attorney Wilfred Absher attempted to discredit their testimony by pointing out to the jurors that the testimony was that of friends and was not general enough to be of value.

State's Case.

The state based its case on the confession, made to the state's attorney and signed in the presence of Deputy Sheriffs C. J. Wright and Harry Norris, and testimony produced by Alden Simms, eye witness to the slaying, Chief of Police Frank Baker, who with other policemen arrested Hall two miles east of the city on the Wabash tracks, and Dr. T. O. Hardesty, who was called to attend Lappin.

Simms repeated the testimony he gave at the coroner's inquest. Chief Baker told of making the arrest and stated that he did not take a statement from the man who wielded the knife because he appeared to be under the influence of liquor, a statement which drew an objection from the defense attorney, but which the court overruled. The chief of police introduced into evidence the pearl handled knife used by Hall, and told of a sister of the slain man coming here to identify the body.

Mrs. Myrtle Stevens of Phillips, Wisconsin, took the stand long enough to put into the record that the dead man was her brother, W. W. Lappin. She said she last saw him alive about two years ago. She said he was 30 years of age.

The twelve jurors selected were T. M. Crum, T. F. Craver, Delbert Aufdenkamp, C. R. Dowland, Gus M. Seymour, Myles Standish, Edward Deaton, Jr., A. J. Haney, Carroll Robinson, W. H. McCarthy, Curtis Templin and Harold Knapp.

H. H. Vasconcellos Is Named Chief Deputy; Sheppard Takes Post

Herbert H. Vasconcellos, for 20 years superintendent of Morgan county schools, Monday was appointed chief deputy of the sheriff's office by Sheriff Kenneth Woods, who assumed office Monday morning. Mr. Vasconcellos accepted the appointment, announcing that he will submit his resignation as county superintendent.

The county board of commissioners, it is understood, will appoint Victor H. Sheppard to fill the unexpired term of several months. Mr. Sheppard was elected county superintendent in November, but his regular term of office will not begin until August 1.

Announcement of appointment of a Chief Deputy by Sheriff Woods came after several weeks of speculation on the part of the public. Several names had been mentioned, but for several days it has been understood that Vasconcellos was to receive the position.

Vasconcellos Monday was preparing his resignation to be handed to the county board. Sheppard, who is a member of the faculty of Jacksonville High school, is preparing to resign that place to assume charge of the county schools. The change probably will take place on Dec. 17.

Sheriff's Force Completed
This appointment is the last to be made by Sheriff Woods in rounding out his staff to serve the next four years. The other deputies were selected several weeks ago and began their work Monday morning.

Mr. Vasconcellos is well qualified for the post of Chief Deputy, having had much experience in accounting and in tax matters. He is well acquainted with the property plats of the county. As Chief Deputy he will be in charge of the sheriff's office and supervise the collection of taxes.

Mr. Sheppard will assume the duties of county superintendent several months in advance of the date expected. The superintendent's term does not expire until August, but by the appointment he will become head of the school system within a short time.

the school system within a short time. All newly elected officials were in charge of the county offices Monday. The old employees remained in some instances to show the new force around and acquaint them with the work.

Future of Agriculture Discussed by President Of I. A. A. at Farm Meet

years. The farmers can't absorb increased prices caused by shorter hours and higher wages, unless they follow this principle.

"In the face of the drought experienced here it is hard for people with no crops to understand that they have been benefited especially when they have to pay $1.15 per bushel for corn. Some say the drought raised prices, but it didn't affect hogs. However, corn prices were no doubt raised by dry conditions."

Corn-Hog Program
"We are not interested in the corn-hog program vs. drought but how the program worked. I do know that during the first ten months of the year farmers received 35 per cent more money on 12 per cent less pork over the same time a year ago."

Mr. Smith is of the opinion that in 1936 the adjustment program will be very much more simplified. He believes that there will be a one contract program which will make easier working conditions for the producers. This will come thru a grain adjustment program. "Give me the assurance of a continuous parity price on hogs and there will be no cause to worry about grain, and we won't need to keep so many chickens and cows if corn is at a parity price."

"When increased prices come the farmer will buy all commodities. The program for the future will be what the farmer wants it to be, he won't be forced to do what he doesn't want to do. However, in the face of increased corn prices if the acreage is increased and we get away from the benefit payments we may have 25 cent corn next year."

In concluding his address Mr. Smith deplored the increasing tax burden, declaring that the Illinois Agricultural Association is the only organization having a definite working program toward the reduction of taxation. For that reason not only every farmer but every business man should hold membership in the association.

He termed the present system of handling relief as a move toward the dole system and presented a program for giving employment to the unemployed and at the same time benefiting the entire state. This program would provide a secondary system of hard roads.

court would reverse the decision, and that the costs would be about $50 or $60.

The council turned back two resolutions asking for additional funds from its share of the Motor Fuel Tax on the grounds that it had received no written request from the state highway department to make such appropriations. Errors in the North Main street project, to the amount of $281.62, and in the West College avenue project, to the amount of $350 were to be paid off by the appropriations. The city clerk was instructed to ask the state highway department for a written order requesting the appropriation resolutions.

Transfer Collections
Transfer of the collection of rentals due for sewer connections outside the city limits from a voluntary payment to the water department collection division will be made possible by the changing of a resolution, the mayor reported. The resolution authorizing persons outside the city limits to connect with the city sewer system was passed in 1909, and provided for voluntary payment of $3.00 a quarter for the service. The council has discovered that very few persons living outside the city have been making these quarterly payments.

A petition asking the council to prevent the erection of a cow-barn on Fegghill Road and Gladstone street was presented, and ordered filed for investigation. It was alleged in the petition, signed by property owners in the neighborhood, that plans had been made to erect a barn. There was some discussion, and the petition was ordered sent to the health warden, Dr. Frederick Englebach, for investigation.

Presents Bill

The mayor also reported that he had presented the bill for damages done to the south side sewage treatment plant when tar and gassy water was pumped into the city main from the South Main street generating plant to the Illinois Power and Light company. John Hoffman, manager of the Illinois Power Light corporation office here, suggested that the matter be taken up with Cohens, who had the contract to clean the tanks. Cohens referred the mayor back to the Illinois Power and Light company.

During the conference with Mr. Hoffman the mayor reported to the council, there was some effort to reach an agreement upon a plan whereby the now unused street car rails could be removed from the city's streets. Some progress was made, the mayor stated, and there is a possibility that some action may be taken along this line before long.

Among the relatives and friends from out of town who attended the services were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Carpenter of Alton, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Berry of Wood River, George and Lee Berry of Naples; Mrs. Whitlock and Louise Berry of Merritt; J. O. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Brannon, Robert Shaw, Mrs. Clara Crouse and Mrs. Maggie Wyatt of White Hall; Mrs. Effie Wright, Mrs. Margaret Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ring, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright, Mrs. Lou Emma Dean, Miss Jane Wright, Miss Hazel Butler, Dr. and Mrs. T. B. Lurg, Rev. F. A. Havighurst, Rev. G. M. Hayes, Mrs. C. R. Short and Mrs. H. C. Osborne, Mrs. Albert Hayes, Don Cowgour, Mrs. Maude Spawhorne, Mrs. Knox, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Kintner, Deem Rapp, of Jacksonville; Rev. J. A. Biddle, Franklin; Rev. A. E. Jern and Rev. D. K. Sailor, of Waverly; Rev. and Mrs. J. Fred Melvin, of Winchester; Mrs. J. C. Andrews and J. P. Wright, of Manchester; and Mrs. Donald Barnett, of Roodhouse, and a large number from Versailles where Mrs. Beadles is pastor.

The following appreciation of Mrs. Beadles' life was read at the service: We are here today to mark the close of a beautiful life. With hearts stirred with sentiments of admiration, appreciation and affection we are gathered to pay tribute to a beautiful, unselfish and highly useful disciple of Christ our Master. We feel that one who has lived on the loftier heights of pure unselfish living has gone from us. And we are here to express not only words of profound sorrow but words of reverent thanksgiving to God for the gift of such lives as these.

Mrs. Nannie A. Beadles was born near Merritt, Illinois, August 24, 1867. She was the daughter of Alexander and Elizabeth Berry. Though not a college graduate, she added to her high school graduation a keen desire for reading and study which served to make her indeed a woman of culture as well as a devoted Christian worker.

On December 23, 1899, she was joined in holy matrimony to Rev. John M. Beadles, and for forty-five years they walked the long and beautiful path of wedded happiness together. In all these years she was to her husband in his pastoral and evangelistic labors an inspiring helper and co-laborer. A large portion of credit for the distinguished success which came to Dr. Beadles is due to his cultured, tactful, courteous and consecrated wife who ever stood ready to second his earnest efforts.

Among the pastorates where she worked loyally together with her husband were the large Main Street Methodist church in Little Rock, Arkansas, and the First Methodist church at Grand Forks, North Dakota.

When Dr. Beadles entered upon his busy and useful career as an evangelist, Mrs. Beadles nearly always accompanied him and worked earnestly with him. She was an especially efficient personal worker, winning many to a Christian decision, or leading them to go forward to the altar or inquiry room.

All who knew Mrs. Beadles were at once impressed with the beautiful qualities of her Christian life and character. She was ever loyal to the highest ideals of life, public and private. Refined in all of her tastes and truly spiritually minded, coarseness in all its forms was repellant to her.

Last September Rev. Lugg, the district superintendent, appointed Dr. Beadles as supply pastor of the Methodist church at Versailles. Mrs. Beadles was greatly in love with her church life there and when asked what message to bear them she said, "Tell them I love them and am sorry."

H.S. DEBATE TEAM BEGINS YEAR'S WORK

To Open Pre-season Meet With Arenzville High School

Jacksonville High school's debate team coached by Harold Gibson, started to work in earnest last night after being held up for some time by conflicting activities. First call was issued for all those interested to meet and the following students were present at the gathering: Bob Pay, Edward Johnston, Mary Butler, Ralph Dunlap and Bill Clark, veterans of last year's team, and Arthur Hallberg, Billy Green, Jane Dunlap, Harlan Eyre, Edward Knox, Ralph Thompson, Betty Trabue and Mary Francis Gaumer.

The subject for debate for the 1934-35 season is "Resolved: That the federal government should adopt the policy of equalizing educational opportunity throughout the nation by means of annual grants to the several states for public elementary and secondary education." This question is exceedingly timely as there is a great deal of dissatisfaction with the present public school systems all over the country and one of the most often discussed remedies is that of federal monetary aid in a manner such as that described in the question.

The team will open its pre-season debates with Arenzville High school in two weeks to be held sometime before Christmas. This gives the local debaters only two weeks to prepare for their first debate. The Arenzville meets will be somewhat different from the regular debate in that three men as usual will present constructive arguments but all of the rebuttal will be taken care of by another person. This will be just an experiment and not used in further debates. The personnel of the teams has not been decided upon by Coach Gibson.

The members of the commission, who are the aldermen of the city, went through the list of applications made by dealers and discovered that a number of places now operating have not requested licenses for the coming year.

The commission refused to renew the license now held by Mike Hopper for operation of a place on North Main street, and a number of other applications were held up pending completion of arrangements.

Future of Agriculture Discussed by President Of I.A.A. at Farm Meet

The future of agriculture was discussed by Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association, at the annual meeting of the Morgan county Farm Bureau, held at the Central Christian church, Monday. Mr. Smith asserting that the prosperity of the nation depends upon the condition of the farmer. The curtailment program is repugnant to many farmers, he declared, but low prices are much worse. The only way in which agriculture can succeed is for the farmers to work thru organization and with the aid of the government, he said.

Mr. Smith's address followed morning sessions of the subsidiary groups of the Farm Bureau, a dinner at noon at five churches in the city with more than one thousand attending the musical numbers. Farm Adviser I. E. Paret gave his report following the dinner and executive committee and township chairmen elected at recent township meetings were installed into office by K. T. Smith, twentieth district director of the Illinois Agricultural Association. F. J. Flynn, president of the Farm Bureau presided during the day.

Hundreds of farmers and their wives packed the large auditorium at the Sunday school room of the Central Christian church to hear the address of Mr. Smith, who spoke particularly of the national legislative farm program.

Tribute to C. S. Black
Mr. Smith paid special tribute to the memory of the late Charles S. Black of this city. Mr. Black was for several years district director of the I.A.A. and Mr. Smith characterized his work for the association as sincere and carried out industry. At the request of Mr. Smith the audience sat with bowed heads for several seconds as a tribute to Mr. Black's memory.

In beginning his talk Mr. Smith said it would be impossible for him, because of limited time, to speak on the service rendered by the Illinois Agricultural Association. He did, however, predict that when the annual meeting of the association is held in the near future the reports will show the business of the organization with a decided increase over that of a year ago.

One of the great weaknesses of the American people is their forgetfulness, when nearly all economic problems are small problems dovetailed together over a period of years, said Mr. Smith. Going back to the World War days and all of its aspects we find the first was to the mothers for their boys for the army, he said. The second was for ships and munitions and the third was directed to the American farmer, who was requested to expand his operations to the utmost, because of the need of foodstuffs.

The farmers not only responded individually, but thousands of acres of land were added to those already being tilled. After the war the bottom man has been able to calculate the weight, the distance between them, and the speed with which they move. His whole knowledge of physics and chemistry depends upon accurate knowledge of the movement of atoms and molecules. In all this he finds always law and order. This speaks for an all-wise Creator.

"Science portrays God as a patient judge. The life, the fortune and the happiness of everyone of us depend on our knowledge of the rules of the game of life, more complicated than chess. It is a game which has been played for untold ages, each individual being one of the two players. The chess board is the world, the pieces are the phenomena of the universe, the rules of the game we call the laws of nature. The player on the other side is hidden from us. We know that he is always fair, just and patient. But we also know to our cost that he never overlooks a mistake or makes the smallest allowance for ignorance. To the man who plays well the highest stakes are paid but he who plays ill is checkmated—without haste but without remorse. In other words, God expects us to know the laws of nature."

"Science leaves room for God as a Spirit. Science derives its strength of spirit from its love of truth. Science is not afraid of truth. Science learns truth by experimentation. This world will acquire happiness only when we seek the truth and then adjust our lives to these experimental truths. "Science has contributed much too man's happiness. Supreme happiness will come not by curtailing science but by more science. Biology and social sciences must follow the steps (Continued on Page Six)

LAMONT PLEASES AUDIENCE WITH CONCERT HERE

Celebrated Operatic Tenor Presents Program At MacMurray

Forrest Lamont, the celebrated concert and operatic tenor, who appeared Monday evening on the program of the Artist Series at MacMurray college, delighted the large audience, which filled Music Hall.

Mr. Lamont sang with magnetic buoyancy that was charming. Both in his selections and in his interpretation he evinced the fact that he is to be numbered among the best singers heard if music centers. His voice is of a beautiful timber and controlled so that he endows each song he sings with sincerity and reality.

He is noted for his pleasing personality and stage presence. His art is polished to a high degree, which produces a distinct appeal to his audience.

In his first group last evening, "Worship to God in Nature"—Bee-oven, "Morning Hymn"—Henschel; "My Native Land"—Kahn, he sang with pure tones of appealing clarity. This was followed by "Amor Tri-Victa" (Fedora)—Giordano; "Waldemar"—Marx and "Traviata"—Rossini, which showed a great brilliancy of tone. The group, "Gavotte and Mulet"—Pallgren, Lento—Scott; Valse, "Brilliant"—Manna Suica, were also exceptionally beautiful as given on the piano by Mr. Sumner. He responded with "Cherokee Love Song" which was also enthusiastically received.

The number, "Arie"—Che Gelida Manina (La Boheme)—Puccini, by Mr. Lamont was a masterpiece in vocal art. The high notes were liquid and the entire aria was full and resonant with a splendid, vivid interpretation. He was repeatedly urged and responded graciously with several Irish songs, which captivated the audience in their artistic rendition.

The last number of this brilliant program included, Prelude—Ronald Consecration;—Manney; a Ballynure Ballad—County Antrim; The Blind Pilgrim; Hymn to the Night—Campbell-Tipton. These were given with superior command and a most noteworthy element in his clear enunciation which was outstanding throughout the well balanced program. Encores were called for and the singer again responded with several fine selections, which were a fitting climax to a program rarely equalled.

Jacksonville had an unusual treat in this number of the Artist Series of MacMurray college. The series which are all outstanding are growing in general interest.

Mr. Lamont earned his title as "one of the best American tenors in grand opera," several seasons ago, when he made a memorable debut with the Chicago Opera Company, as Rudolfo in "La Boheme." Following this he was acclaimed to the music world as a new American "find." "One who was received by the audience with enthusiasm and praise by critics." He has been widely known for his performances of first roles in the leading Italian operas.

Reports of Business Affairs Are Heard at City Council Meeting

Reports of the city's business affairs engaged the city council at its regular meeting last night in the council chambers at the city hall, the council hearing a number of petitions, passing one ordinance, and holding up resolutions said to have been requested by the state department of highways appropriating additional money from the city's share of the motor fuel tax to pay for extra work done on the two paving projects recently completed.

A special meeting of the council was called for last night at seven o'clock to hear the preliminary report of Warren and Van Praag, engineers retained by the council to draw plans for improving the city water pumping and street lighting plant. Mayor W. A. Wainwright told the council that the engineers were ready to submit their first report and preliminary sketches either Thursday or Friday of this week. It was decided that Friday night would be most suitable to all of the members of the council.

A petition signed by a number of business men at the square requesting that center parking be restored, was ordered referred to the state highway department. Another petition, signed by six business men on the square, asked that the present system of traffic control be allowed to continue. The mayor declared that the council was primarily interested in moving traffic and not in parking automobiles, and stated that if the center parking system was returned, a one or two hour parking limit would be strictly enforced.

No Change in Liquor Laws
No changes will be made in the city's liquor control ordinance, it was determined by a 6-2 vote, after a petition from the licensed liquor dealers was read, asking that several changes be made in the present code. Alderman Roy Conlee moved to keep the present ordinance in force, declaring that license fees would in no wise regulate bootlegging, arguing that stopping the bootlegging practice was a measure of enforcement of the present ordinance. His motion was upheld by Aldermen Cowgour, Devlin, Williamson, Green and Day, and opposed by Aldermen Warwick and Weaver, who argued that some changes should be made.

The liquor dealers, in their petition, suggested that the council change the license fees to a flat rate of $500 a year, excepting clubs and restaurants which sell bottled beer only. A license for a restaurant under their plan was to cost $50. Mayor Wainwright conducted a round table discussion of the opinions as to the present ordinance, and then reported that thus far neither the federal or state government have co-operated with the city in stamping out bootlegging. He then called for a vote on Alderman Conlee's motion.

Reports of the health department, Justice of the Peace C. S. Smith, Chief of Police Frank Baker, A. C. Jantzen, water superintendent, and City Clerk John R. Phillips were read and placed on file.

Fewer Transients
According to an estimate made by Alderman Ralph Green, 70 percent of the benefits of establishing a rock pile already have been derived in the few number of itinerants who have come to this city. The city has been accommodating new transient guests during the past month, and the result is that there have been no men placed at work in the rock pile, which now is ready for use.

Mayor Wainwright added to the report of the chairman of the police committee the fact that the identification department is already to begin work, and that the two extra policemen placed on duty in the square have brought a great feeling of relief to the businessmen. He also stated that one of the merchant policemen is now co-operating with the city police department and that he will get in touch with the chairman, J. C. Lukeman to determine whether the other merchant policeman intends to cooperate.

Alderman Harlan Williamson urged all of the heads of departments to get in their budgets for the coming year by the time for the next regular meeting. The mayor also urged the department heads to get busy, and City Attorney O. N. Foreman warned the council that it would be making a lot of work when the budget making time arrived. An informal session of the council was tentatively set for a week from tonight when the budget will be discussed.

Carrying an emergency clause, a new city ordinance regulating the hours of operation of a bowling alley and providing for the licensing of these places, adopted by the council. The ordinance provides that bowling alleys must close at 1 a. m. and remain closed until 5 a. m., six days a week, and on Sunday they may remain open from 1 p. m. to 6 p. m. The fee for operating a bowling alley is $45 a year. City Attorney O. N. Foreman read the ordinance which he had prepared.

Case to Higher Court

The city council voted to take the case of the Barton County Rock Asphalt company, which yesterday was decided in favor of the company against the city, to a higher court at the recommendation of the city attorney. The Asphalt Company charges that the city owes them $467.50 for materials, and the city denies the claim on the grounds that they gave the company a warrant for the asphalt, and that the company held the warrant from Nov. 5, until Nov. 25, 1932, before presenting it for payment. In the meantime the Avera National Bank, where the city's money was deposited, closed its doors. The city claims that the company held the warrant an unreasonable length of time, and that the purchase of the asphalt was illegal because the purchase amounted to over $100 and was for supplies and not materials.

The city attorney explained that the circuit court Monday ruled against the city on all three counts. He explained that with all due respect to the court, he believed that a higher court would reverse the decision.
